EM Records is the recording arm of the English Music Festival (EMF) and, as such, fulfils the EMF's aim of celebrating overlooked British composers throughout the centuries, with a strong focus on the early twentieth century – the Golden Renaissance of English Music. EM Records resolves to bring this glorious music to a worldwide audience by committing to recorded format some of the treasures that the EMF unearths, with each disc containing at least one World Première recording.

HEIR OF ALL THE AGES

EM Records is delighted to announce a new recording – the debut issue from the brilliant young Flutes and Frets duo – of English music from the sixteenth century until the present day. With each work performed on historically-appropriate instruments, this disc will present a huge variety of tones and colours from flutes and fretted instruments, and captures sound-snapshots of the evolution of British music over the past six hundred years. Highlights include a new folk-inspired commission for flute and guitar from British composer Seth Bye; an arrangement of one of Henry Eccles's many violin sonatas for traverso and theorbo; and lute songs by Renaissance court musician, Nicholas Lanier, amongst many other gems.

We are inviting music enthusiasts to contribute to the success of these exciting and groundbreaking new recordings by becoming subscribers. For a suggested minimum donation of £50 per disc, supporters will receive the following:

- A mention as a named subscriber in the CD Booklet
- A free pair of tickets to the launch event
- A complimentary copy of the CD immediately upon its release
